World's First Augmented Reality (AR) Power Supply Catalog Now Available

Delta's October 2016 edition of Standard Power Supply catalog and leaflets are now available. In this edition, the new PMU series of panel mount power supply and six other new products have been added.

In our continuous effort to provide you the best information, we have added Augmented Reality (AR) feature in this new catalog on selected models. You can now explore the products in 3D models. You can zoom in/out and even rotate the 3D image in all angles to explore our products in greater details.

Start exploring the exciting and useful features. Simply download the DeltaPSU AR app to discover our products in a new perspective. The apps are free and available on App Store and Google Play.
